SpiceLAB presents

BRUNCH, BUSINESS & BEATS

Quarterly Workshop Series

However, due to that experience, I learned some extremely valuable lessons but felt like I had lost momentum and time within my business. Now moving past that time of my life, one thing I knew for sure is that, I had met and/or interacted with some phenomenal people, like yourself. It was time to share my network in a way for others to learn first-hand, the priceless information that a panel of greatness can share to create impact for one's business development.

It's All About the Shift

It's All About the Shift is the theme for our 2019 curated events that will put focus on SpiceLAB's strategic 7-points to a 360 Approach to Business Development.

This unique brunch and learn series will present an expert panel and quest speaker(s) that can:

- Speak to their category of specific expertise
- Present useful tips and how-to's
- Share their own entrepreneurial shift moment(s)

The series will host quarterly meetings with a focus on a specific area of business development. At each meeting, attendees will leave with key takeaways and actionable tasks to implement into their business strategies.
